Paris Postmaster Receives New Order.

Postmaster N. A. Moore is in receipt of a copy of the general order issued by the Postoffice Department at Washington, providing for the installation of the collect-on-delivery system for the parcels post.

The new rule provides that after July 1, 1913, packages may be sent by parcel post, C. O. D., provided that the full amount of the postage on the package is paid and ten cents in parcel post stamps in addition to the amount required for postage, be added to the package.

Upon delivery of the package the person to whom it is addressed must pay the charges on the package and sign a receipt, which also serves as an application for a money order. This tag, together with the amount collected, is returned to the money order department, where a money order is made out to the sender of the package and forwarded in penalty envelope, the money order serving the sender of the package as a receipt for the goods.

No goods so sent shall be examined until the charges on the package have been paid. No packages can be returned after delivery. This new branch of the parcel post service will undoubtedly increase the business, and it is estimated by some that it will in time entirely do away with the express business in the United States.

Any package so sent is insured for its value, which shall not exceed $100, without extra charge. C. O. D. packages may be received by and sent to money order offices only.

Rosedale.

The editor of News visited Rosedale, the beautiful new addition being opened up by Messrs. Henry & Bacon, and was agreeably surprised at the wonderful change they have made in the appearance of this tract of land.

They have a number of lot fronting on Cypress street, and quite a good many fronting on a beautiful new street they have graded through this property. They tell us they are going to name this new street for the buyer of the first lot at their auction sale, which will take place some time in May.

They have a large force of hands busy making concrete walks all through this property. They inform us that they will extend water mains and install a private sewerage system, and have already set a great many beautiful shade trees.

This addition is on Cypress street, close to the L. and N. round house, with concrete walks all the way. We feel confident that money invested in these lots will be safe and bring returns. Go out Sunday afternoon and see for yourself.

Candidates Should Note New Law

The petitions necessary under the operations of the new State primary law for candidates seeking party nominations may be circulated on and after May 3, and must be filed with the county clerk no later than July 3. Any nominating petition circulated by a candidate before May 3 will be worthless and disqualify him from getting on the primary ballots. Candidates for county officers are required to have on their petitions the signatures of no less than 3 per cent, and not in excess of 10 per cent of the voters of the party in which they seek the nominations.

Charles D. Webb Succumbs to Illness.

Mr. Charles D. Webb, formerly Mayor of Paris, for two consecutive terms Judge of the Police Court, a member of one of the county's most prominent families, and one of the best known citizens of Paris, died at his home on Pleasant street, Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, following an illness of almost a year.

Mr. Webb had been a great sufferer for a number of months, suffering with Bright's disease, and recently suffered several severe spells, from which he rallied, only to be stricken again about four weeks ago, and from which he never recovered.

His condition several days ago assumed a critical stage, causing much apprehension among the members of his family and numerous friends, and Tuesday evening it became apparent the end was close at hand. At intervals he was unconscious, but frequently there was a very noticeable change, which gave evidence of his recognizing those who had tenderly cared for him during the many days through which he lingered.

Everything known to medical science was done to relieve his suffering, but the tender care he received from loving hands, was to no avail.

The members of his family, with the exception of his devoted mother, who is confined to her home with illness, were at his bedside when he entered into the peaceful sleep that knows no waking.

Mr. Webb was a son of the late William Webb, who for years conducted a grocery business in this city. He began his career in a printing office, under the late F. L. McChesney, and was for a number of years in the employ of the late Col. John G. Craddock. He was at one time regarded as the swiftest type setter in Kentucky. In after years he worked on the Kansas City, Mo., Journal, and when he returned to Kentucky he held a local position with the Adams Express Co. Mr. Webb's political career began in 1889, when he was elected Mayor of Paris, when he succeeded the late Mayor Chambers. In this capacity he served the city for four years when with a change in the constitution which created the office of Police Judge, he became a candidate for that position and was elected without opposition.

When his term of office expired he was re-elected in the face of a strong opposition. He was defeated in the primary election following by Judge E. T. Hinton.

At the expiration of the term of his office he was employed by the News in the capacity of city editor, a position he held until three years ago, when he resigned to go into business for himself, purchasing the establishment of the Paris Book Co., which until stricken with his late illness, he conducted very successfully.

About four years ago Mr. Webb was united in marriage to Miss Georgia Fithian, daughter of the late Dr. Joe Fithian, who with his mother, Mrs. Mary C. Webb, and two brothers, Mr. William H. Webb, Clerk of the Bourbon Circuit Court, and Mr. Frank P. Webb, an L. and N. passenger conductor, survives.

Mr. Webb was born in this city on March 2, 1858, and only a few weeks ago passed his fifty-fifth year in life.

Being of a kindly disposition, Mr. Webb made many friends who will mourn his loss. He was genial and cordial, enjoying a wide acquaintance, and the scores who were numbered among his most intimate friends, will feel keenly his demise.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, confessing faith in youth. Until his marriage he lived at the home of his mother, to whom he displayed a beautiful devotion.

The funeral services will take place in Paris cemetery this morning at 10:30. Services by Rev. F. J. Cheek, assisted by Rev. B. M. Shive.

The pall-bearers will be: C. H. Fithian, Newt Mitchell, W. W. Mitchell, Dr. C. G. Daugherty, Dr. M. H. Dailey, Geo. R. Bell, Frank Lowry and N. F. Brent.

BOURBON BAR PASSES RESOLUTIONS

At a meeting of the Bourbon bar, held at the court house yesterday, the following resolutions of respect upon the death of Mr. Webb, were passed: Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to take from our midst our friend and fellow worker, Judge, Charles D. Webb, and whereas, he as a member of the Bourbon bar and faithful in the discharge of the duties that devolved upon him.

Now, therefore be it resolved: First—That we mourn with the entire community and especially with his beloved family his untimely death and realize that the community has lost one of its good citizens and the bar association of this county a useful member.

Second—Be it further resolved that we tender to his beloved wife and family our sincere sympathy in this their hour of sorrow.

Third—Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and a copy of the same be spread upon the records of the Bourbon Circuit Court and that the first day of the June term of the Bourbon Circuit Court be set aside as memorial day in honor of the deceased.

Fourth—Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the newspapers of the county with the request that they publish them.

"WE KNOW HOW"

Even WE Admit

that there are more important things in the world than having the right clothes. We realize that, as the poet says, "A man's a man for a' that."

But, unfortunately, people WILL judge a fellow by the way he looks, and even more unfortunately, lots of fellows don't look as well-dressed as they might. It isn't because they don't want to, or because they don't try, it's because they don't know how or where to get garments that will bring out the best of them and hide the worst of them.

We don't say that we CAN, because it wouldn't be modest, but we're morally sure that we MIGHT show you a suit that would cause the first friend you met to congratulate you on your improved appearance. COME and SEE.
